

The Leibniz Institute of Agricultural Development in Transition Economies (IAMO) is a leading international research institute in agricultural economics located in Halle (Saale) and offers at the Department Agricultural Policy a position as

Student Assistant (m/f/d).

Supporting tasks for researchers:

- Literature research
- Data collection, data input and processing work
- Preparation of graphs and tables
- Editorial work

We expect:

- Very good command of Office package (MS -Excel, -Access)
- Very good command of English language
- High personal commitment and strong motivation, flexibility
- At least one of the following requirements: Experience in reference management software (Endnote, Citavi, BibTeX) and/or Experience in data management software (STATA, R or SPSS) and/or proficiency in Russian language and/or basic knowledge of Python programming language

We offer:

- Salary based on qualification, following German public service scheme (TV-L)
- Part-time employment, maximum 11 hours per week conditional upon degree
- Highly motivated international research environment
- In case of interest supervision of BSc or MSc theses

About us

Equality of opportunity is part of our personnel policy. Female researchers are strongly encouraged to apply. Disabled applicants with adequate qualification will be preferentially considered.

Please send your application (short CV, overview of study performance, proof of immatriculation) until 29.11.2020 as one PDF file (max. 5 MB) to:

Siranush Ghukasyan, ghukasyan@iamo.de

Please take note of the information with respect to data protection in handling applications following Art. 13 DSGVO: <https://www.iamo.de/top-navigation/datenschutz/>.