The pilot project aims to develop scientific capacity-building within a cooperation project between the Leibniz Institute for Agricultural Development in Transition Economies \(IAMO\) and the Kyiv School of Economics \(KSE\). The project is composed of 4 well linked components: First, a joint research group is established, which is at the core of the project and focuses on questions of the integration of the Ukrainian food sector in regional and international markets. The second component includes the realization of capacity building measures at the KSE. Third, a project office is established. Fourth, the perpetuation of the project is prepared (business plan for the university chair/research center at the KSE).

The ideal candidate will fulfil the following requirements:

- Exceptional doctoral degree in agricultural/food economics, general economics, or a related fields;
- Strong skills in econometric modeling/analysis and statistical programming;
- Experience in project management, leadership skills, and high ability to work in a team environment;
- Demonstrated expertise including a strong publication record in relevant research areas;
- Proficiency in oral and written English;
- Preferably knowledge of one or more languages of the focus regions (Ukrainian, Russian).

The Post-Doc position will be based at KSE in Kyiv (Ukraine). The service contract is limited to 3 years. The position is financed through a service contract of 1.250,- EUR/month. KSE will offer teaching opportunities in addition to this service contract to qualified candidates. KSE is an equal opportunity employer and particularly welcomes applications from female candidates.

Applications with a cover letter, curriculum vitae, publication list and contact information of two academic references should be sent via email as one pdf-file (no larger than 2 MB) to Ms. Antje Elsner (elsner@iamo.de) with the subject KSE/IAMO Project Application.

Applications will be considered until January 14, 2018 or until the position is filled. The preferred starting date is February 1, 2018. Please note that only short-listed candidates will be contacted for interview via email. Solicitation costs cannot be reimbursed.
